WYSING ARTS CENTRE: OPPORTUNITY FOR ARTISTS TO DELIVER ART COURSES - ARTISTS' BRIEF

We are looking for artists who live within 40 miles of Wysing who would like to teach art skills at our centre in Cambridgeshire. This is a paid opportunity to design and deliver art courses to adults.

Wysing's site includes lots of land, a ceramics studio, a recording studio and workshop spaces.

Artists can propose courses that:

- Are related to their practice
- Develop their own teaching experience
- Work well alongside Wysing's ethos around equity and artistic experimentation
- Share practical skills, processes and techniques
- Provide new skills to participants

You can propose different types of courses including weekend workshops, day courses, evening classes or half day workshops.

We will provide fees for planning and delivery and cover the cost of materials.

We'll work closely with you in arranging some of the details and we'll work together in promoting your course to the public.

How to Apply

Please use this link to Submittable to respond to each of the questions we ask.

The questions ask you about your skills, your artistic practice and your experience of teaching. We ask for details of how you would approach teaching and how your course matches with our ethos.

We are not asking you to have a fully planned course for the application.

You can respond in writing, or an audio or video recording if easier.

The deadline is Monday 4th April at 9.00am

If you are successful, you will be contacted in mid April and invited to plan a course with us.
